

British Journal of Industrial Medicine

Comparison of in vivo and in vitro glutathione reductase activity in human erythrocytes N. S. G. Fildes and J. Sonnet

Absenteeism among employees in the chemical industry J. W. Meigs, W. J. Blot, S. Inoue, and J. M. Harrington

An epidemiological study of occupational asthma in the industry of Japan K. Takano, M. Takano, and M. Takano

Determination of haemoglobin A<sub>1c</sub> by a gas-liquid chromatography equilibration method M. Takano, A. Sato, T. Nakajima, and K. Takano

Chronic cyanide exposure in the rubber industry: a cross-sectional study S. H. El Ghawabi, M. A. El Ghawabi, K. K. Malash, and R. Farouk

The ventilatory cost of exercise in the elderly J. M. Harrington

Adsorption of syndiotactic polystyrene on quartz surface M. Delgado-García and J. M. Garrido

Chest symptoms in farming: a study of farmer's lung D. C. Morrison, J. C. Gilson, P. Callaghan, and J. M. Harrington

Pilot study of closing volume in normal subjects J. Hankinson, H. Imbus, N. L. Lumb, and J. M. Harrington

An evaluation of effect of airway obstruction on guinea-pig ileum with reference to human bronchi D. W. Franklin

Notes and miscellanea

Percivall Pott and cancer J. M. Harrington

M. D. Kipling and H. A. Waters J. M. Harrington

Occupational health and safety in the United States J. M. Harrington

Book reviews

Information section