

We acknowledge the help of Mrs K Bolt with the preparing and typing of this paper and also the National Coal Board in Wales for permission to use the illustration in the text.

References

- ¹ Alister C, Hamilton GM. The Cardowan coal mine explosion: an experience of a mass burns incident. Br Med J 1983;287:403–5.
- ² Johns AM. Time off work after hand injury. Injury 1981;12:417–24.
- ³ Conolly WB, Goulston E. Residual disability after industrial hand injuries. Med J Aust 1976;2:895–6.
- ⁴ Walpole B. Industrial hand injury. Aust Fam Physician 1977;6:1089–92.
- ⁵ Scott QJ. Hand injuries at a mine hospital. Cent Afr J Med 1978;24:61–4.
- ⁶ Sandzen SC, Jr. Crush injuries of the hand. Med Trial Tech Q 1972;19:282–9.
- ⁷ Moberg E. Criticism and study of methods for examining sensibility in the hand. Neurology 1962;12:8–19.

Correction

Mesothelioma and asbestos fibre type

In the second paragraph of this letter (August, p 567) it should have read "... small quantities of amphibole fibre at the former, we would not agree with him."