

Industrial Relations Services Training present:

VIRAL HEPATITIS

– issues for employers

A one-day conference organised by
Occupational Health Review and IRS Training

18 March 1994

Conference facilities at the
Association of British Insurers, London

The programme covers:

- SCIENTIFIC UPDATE
- LEGAL ISSUES
- RISKS AND VACCINATIONS
- PRACTICAL REQUIREMENTS OF VACCINATION DELIVERY
- HEPATITIS B IMMUNISATION: CHOOSING THE BEST POLICY
- IDENTIFICATION AND MANAGEMENT OF HEPATITIS CARRIERS

ENQUIRY FORM

Please send me more information on Viral Hepatitis – issues for employers

Name _____ Position _____

Organisation _____

Address _____

Tel No. _____ Fax No. _____

Now please return to:

Marcia Stein, IRS Training, 18-20 Highbury Place, London N5 1QP.
Tel No. 071-354 5858 Fax No.: 071-354 8106

ROYAL BROMPTON
NATIONAL HEART & LUNG INSTITUTE
In association with
ROYAL BROMPTON NATIONAL
HEART & LUNG HOSPITALS

COURSE IN OCCUPATIONAL LUNG DISEASE

13-15 APRIL, 1994

COURSE ORGANISER

PROFESSOR A J NEWMAN TAYLOR

This three day course is designed for consultants and for those in training, in thoracic medicine and occupational medicine. It will also interest others involved in these fields.

The course will include epidemiology, radiology, lung function and clinical aspects of occupational lung diseases such as:

Inorganic and organic dust pneumoconioses
Lung cancer and mesothelioma
Asthma
Byssinosis
Occupational bronchitis
And topics of current controversy

SPEAKERS WILL INCLUDE:

Professor A J Newman Taylor, Professor J Corbett McDonald,
Dr C A C Pickering, Dr K M Venables

COURSE FEE

£350.00 (includes coffee, lunch, tea and course reception)

For further information and an application form please contact: Conference Centre, National Heart and Lung Institute, Dovehouse Street, London SW3 6LY. Telephone: 071-351 8172 (24hr answering service), Fax: 071-376 3442.

Please note that this course will take place at: The Thrombosis Research Institute, Lecture Theatre, Emmanuel Kaye Building, Manresa Road, London SW3 6LR.

Akademie für öffentliche Gesundheit, Bochum, Germany
Applied Epidemiology, Inc., Amherst (Mass.), USA

ICOE

INTENSIVE COURSE IN OCCUPATIONAL EPIDEMIOLOGY

June 5–10, 1994, Wermelskirchen, Germany

The Intensive Course in Occupational Epidemiology (ICOE) is a five-day instructional course in the concepts, approaches, methods, analysis and interpretation of occupational health research. It is specifically designed to provide occupational physicians and other interested health professionals with the essential background necessary for critically reading and interpreting published epidemiological research, designing basic epidemiological studies, as well as assembling and analyzing data pertaining to the health of working populations.

ICOE Faculty

Professor Kenneth A. Mundt, Professor Harvey Checkoway, Professor Carol Bigelow, Dr. Sylvaine Cordier, Professor Dr. Andreas Zober.

Course topics

The Epidemiological Perspective, History of Occupational Epidemiology, Occupational Study Designs, Preventing Bias, Statistical Control of Confounding, Basic Computer Analysis, Interpreting Study Results, Epidemiological Surveillance in the Workplace, Occupational Health Data Analysis, Critical Assessment of Published Occupational Studies, Introduction to Environmental Epidemiology.

For further information please contact:

Walter Dieckmann, Dipl.rer.soc., ICOE Manager, Akademie für öffentliche Gesundheit, D-44780 Bochum,

Phone: (49)-(0)234-700-5162 Fax: (49)-(0)234-7094-325.

Fees: DM1.200,-; Accommodation: DM700,- (single room and board).