may change gradually which would be useful for identifying gradual onset of hearing loss. Another descriptive study of Notch and Notch Area should be conducted in population with diagnosed Occupational NIHL and other work-related hearing loss. 6,000 Hertz Notch and V-shape notch were common.